

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

On Sunday it appeared that only official confirmation by the United States senate is required to complete the details of the formalities connected with the appointment of E. H. Keach as postmaster, to succeed Raymond Allen, who has been postmaster for several years, following another long period of service as assistant postmaster.

Mr. Keach is one of Danielson's best known citizens, head of the firm of E. H. Keach and Company and has for many years been connected with the mercantile activities of Danielson. It is understood that Mr. Keach, when appointed, will incorporate his business and so relieve himself of his present business responsibilities as to allow of his giving practically his entire time to the postal service.

Mr. Keach has been a prominent member of the republican party in Danielson for many years, has represented the town in the legislature and has been a senator from the Twenty-eighth senatorial district, of which Killbuck is a part. In the legislature his abilities were recognized and was a factor in the enactment of some of the most important legislation that has gone on in the state books in the past decade.

He has been a resident here since his early youth and it is foretold that his administration as postmaster will be marked by efficiency and a constant effort to give Danielson the very best possible postal service.

Mrs. Jeanne Gazeau, 70, wife of Peter Gazeau, died at her home here on Saturday evening. Mrs. Gazeau had been ill about a week and for the greater part of that period it was feared that her condition was so serious as to indicate that the end was near at hand. Mrs. Gazeau was a native of France, but had been a resident here for a long period of years. She leaves her husband, five daughters, Mrs. Jeanne Bainville of New Bedford, Misses Marie, Louise, Leonie and Philomena Gazeau, all of Danielson, and one son, Peter Gazeau, Jr., of Danielson.

Late Friday night at her home on Furnace street the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Lawlor, 80, occurred. Although Mrs. Lawlor had spent the greater part of her long life in Danielson, she had lived in New York before coming to Danielson and was a native of Ireland, from whence she came as a young woman. Her last illness was of about a week's duration. She was a woman of unusual talents, interested in every phase of life and surprisingly active for one of her years until within a few months. Mrs. Lawlor was the widow of Patrick Lawlor, who died many years ago. Mrs. Lawlor is survived by two daughters, with whom she makes her home—Mrs. Mary Monahan and Mrs. Annie Quinn.

Saturday morning the funeral of Mrs. Vialine Bouquet was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Berth-

PUTNAM

Through their attorneys, Searis, Russell and Bradford, Arthur King of Hyde Park, Mass., and Mrs. Georgianna King Smith of Putnam, have appealed from the probate court's allowance of the sale of the King homestead on Grove street and from the allowance of the final account of Agathon S. King, executor of the will of Nelson King. All are children and heirs of the late Nelson King. The appellants allege that the property was sold without proper advertisement and without sufficiently trying to secure a purchaser and that a higher price might have been obtained. It is also alleged that soon after the sale was made the property was deeded to the executor. The appeal is returnable to the superior court.

Funeral services for James B. Tenet, pioneer hardware manufacturer of this section, who died early Thursday morning at his residence on Grove street, was held from the home, Saturday afternoon. Burial was in the Grove street cemetery.

If citizens of Putnam, both young and old, who enjoy ice skating, are to have an opportunity for this something will have to be done immediately. The best available skating pond is the so-called Perry's meadow. This pond covers a large area, is an ideal place to skate. Unfortunately through the actions of hoodlums, who have gone to the pond in the past committing various kinds of nuisances, the ice doctors who use the pond as a source of supply have felt obliged to stop its use as a public skating rink. Last year the Parent-Teachers' association was instrumental in having the pond fenced and the machine could not be started. Fred L'Herreux, who lives near Keach's pond, volunteered to tow the truck to Putnam. When coming down a hill the truck skidded and crashed through a fence.

Following the accident Joseph Chomanska of Putnam came along and took the injured man in his car and rushed him to the hospital but he was dead before he reached there. Gremour was rendered unconscious but came to after a while and only suffered from minor abrasions and bruises.

Officer Gibney was notified of the accident and was told that there was another injured man. He went to the scene of the accident but when he arrived Gremour had recovered and was apparently not little hurt. The officer made an investigation but was unable to learn just how Durocher met his death. A man who was riding the truck just previous to the accident stated that a man was riding on the running board of the truck at that time. This driver told the officer that Durocher was thrown through the windshield and landed in some nearby bushes. Investigation of the spot pointed out did not show signs of a body having fallen there. If Durocher was on the running board he was doubtless crushed against the fence.

Putnam for a whole week. He will arrive Saturday and will stay here all the week following. The old fellow has notified the grown-ups to tell the children of Putnam that he will be glad to see them shake their hands and talk over what they would like as gifts. Not only the children of Putnam but all the children who come to Putnam. He will be about all the afternoon and evening every day and every boy and girl may see him and talk to him and tell him just what they want him to leave them when he makes his annual trip Christmas eve.

Attorney Charles L. Torrey as secretary of the town school board, has received notice from the state comptroller that the 1922 children of school age in Putnam entitles the town to $4,477.75 from the state.

The Standard Oil Company of New York has acquired additional property in the north end of the city near their present location. The purchase consists of land fronting on the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad tracks on the west about 198 feet and is about the same number of feet deep. The local agent of the company admits that enlargement of the company's distributing station here is about to be made. The company now has three storage tanks with a combined capacity of 144,000 gallons and this has become inadequate and several times the local supply has reached a point where the supply was nearly exhausted. The plans include the erection of several new supply tanks, an oil building and steam-heated garages.

A new gas rate and a slightly decreased rate for electricity will be put into effect by the Putnam Light & Power Company. The local agent of the company called a "service charge" will be done away with. The small consumer will pay slightly less for gas while there is a small increase in the larger consumer. The change was brought about by the continued objection to the 50 cents per month added to gas bills for a service charge. While it was pointed out that "this" was an inequitable plan as it put the burden of overhead service charges on all consumers alike the consumers did not like kindly to it and many objections were registered.

The reduction in charges for electricity was a voluntary one and amounts to about one cent per kilowatt hour to the small consumer. Those who use over 100 kilowatt hours will pay slightly more. Manufacturing industries coming under a special rate will not be affected by the change.

At a meeting of the Putnam Country Club Friday evening plans were discussed for raising money to buy the property used by the club and it is hoped that by another year the former farm property will be free from encumbrances. The past season was the most

FATALLY INJURED WHEN

TRUCK CRASHES THROUGH FENCE
(Special to The Bulletin.)

Putnam, Dec. 10.—Ell Durocher of Woonsocket, a boxer known as "Kid O'Neil," died on the way to the Day Kimball hospital Saturday afternoon where he was being taken following an automobile accident on the Providence pike east of what is known as Whittier's four corners.

Durocher was riding on a truck owned and driven by Joseph Gremour of Chepachet and they were on their way to Putnam. The rear end of the truck gave out and the machine could not be started. Fred L'Herreux, who lives near Keach's pond, volunteered to tow the truck to Putnam. When coming down a hill the truck skidded and crashed through a fence.

Following the accident Joseph Chomanska of Putnam came along and took the injured man in his car and rushed him to the hospital but he was dead before he reached there. Gremour was rendered unconscious but came to after a while and only suffered from minor abrasions and bruises.

successful since the club was organized in 1915 and the membership was the largest. The club bought the old Heath farm consisting of a two-story farm house and many acres of valuable land. The farmhouse was remodelled into a fine club house with a steady flow of spring water to a hill to the east. Since that time a new locker room with shower bath has been built, giving the upper floor over to the exclusive use of the ladies.

The new Rawley block on Front street is practically completed and tenants are moving in. This is the third new business block to be completed this fall.

Tenants are beginning to remove from the St. Onge block on Main street. The building is to be sold at auction and will be torn down or removed at once to make room for the erection of a new Putnam Savings Bank building.

H. H. Davenport, of Pomfret, supervisor of state highways in this district, has announced that the road from North Woodstock to the Massachusetts state line in the direction of Southbridge is to be rebuilt. Work of making the survey is to begin his (Monday) morning and construction will begin early next spring. He stretch of road to be taken over by the state highway department is about three miles long. The road will be used by motorists going from this city to Southbridge and thence on to Springfield and western Massachusetts. It is the most direct route between these points but because of its being unimproved has been avoided.

Following the snow, rain and freeze of Friday, Saturday was a veritable spring day and heavy overcoats were uncomfortably warm. Before night most of the snow in the business section had disappeared. The weather was such that early Christmas shoppers took advantage of it and the storekeepers did good business.

STONINGTON

Friday evening the Ladies of the Second Congregational church presented in the church the play entitled, The Old Peabody. The play was a comedy in three acts. The play was written by Douglas Wiggin from her book of the same title. The members of the cast all took their parts most excellently. The cast was:

The play took part in the play as a musical programme. A silver collection was taken up.

The women of the Second Congregational church at their Christmas sale held Thursday cleared about $200. This showed much hard work on the part of the ladies who made the affair such a financial success.

The All Stars, Noank, North End Juniors and Bulldogs will be in the Junior basketball league which is much in evidence on the grounds of desolation and the following system of scoring will be used: Each scheduled game will be scored on a sportsmanship basis: sportsmanship 50 points; reliability, 10 points; winning, 20 points; sportsmanship to include fouls and infraction of the rules charged to a team; prompt acceptance of the officials' decisions; language and conduct of the players during the contest; conduct of spectators and partisans of a team during the game; conduct of team and followers to and from game.
